

HATE OFFICE SEEKERS

Women Who Crave Office Never Get One in the Michigan W. C. T. U.

STATE CONVENTION BEGUN.

Committees Appointed and the Society Now in Shape to Do Business.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the twenty-third annual meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union began at the First M. E. church. The church was gaily decked with mottoes of the society and on the platform was the rich banner of the state of Michigan which was painted in glittering letters, "Michigan my Michigan, for God and Home and Native Land." The sides of the church were decorated with banners reading like the following: "In the name of Our God will we set up our banners," "Not for Sect but for Humanity."

There were fifty strangers present at the opening session and Mrs. E. M. Bass, chairman of the committee on entertainment, was kept busy all the forenoon assigning them to places of entertainment. This afternoon the trains brought larger numbers but there was plenty of accommodation provided for all.

The women are just as business like as the men and in the hall of the church is a stand where W. C. T. U. souvenir spoons are sold, where the biography of Miss Willard's mother is exchanged for coin and opportunities are afforded those who honestly desire to part with bits of change.

In opposition to Harry Huntington the Misses Earl and French have opened a postoffice and bureau of information in one of the exit entrances of the church and in another is a baggage room in charge of Misses Rice and Morrill.

The election of officers will occur Thursday forenoon and it is probable that the present officers will be elected. Asked if any Benton Harbor woman would get a state office Mrs. E. L. Calkins of Kalamazoo said: "No one will get an office who is an office seeker. We always sit right down on that sort of people. When anyone aspires for glory we always think that they do not appreciate the responsibilities of office and would make poor officials. If Benton Harbor has some one we really need we will elect them."

This evening at 7:30 o'clock will be the welcome meeting, the program for which appeared in THE NEWS last evening. Following will be a half hour by the children in which the following local children will take part: Tina Stretch, Charlie Wiley, Myrtle

Walker, Isabelle Earle, Carrie O'Donnell, Willie Ludlow, Jessie Elliott and Esther O'Donnell.

THE FIRST SESSION.

Only Three Gentlemen Were Present.

The devotional exercises at the opening of the first session of the W. C. T. U. were conducted by Mrs. E. L. Calkins of Kalamazoo. Nearly 400 ladies and three gentlemen were in attendance. Mrs. Alice M. Phillips, of Grand Rapids, a worker among soldiers and sailors was called to the platform and she made an excellent address. The convention then for a little time resolved itself into a prayer meeting.

The pews of the church are divided off into congressional districts and the church has something of the appearance of a political convention ground, with its banners of the different districts.

Secretary Arford of the Y. M. C. A., assisted by William Russell, Barrett O'Hara and Ward Stratton met the different trains and escorted the ladies to the church.

The state president, Mrs. Benjamin organized the convention by the appointment of the following committees: Finance—Mesdames Vorhees, Ann Arbor; Knowles, Benton Harbor; Telegram committee—Mrs. Julia R. Parish, Bay City.

Committee on resolutions—Mesdames Jennie Lockwood, M. E. Strong, Francis S. H. Dickenson, Emily E. Brown, Emma Green, C. C. Fully, Emma Bowers, Ella E. Burrett, J. H. Bailly, M. M. Coone, Jennie Spanger.

FREE TEXT BOOKS.

The Uniform School Book Law May Mean That.

Prof. E. A. Wilson is greatly interested in the law for uniform text books passed by the legislature. The law leaves it optional with any city or district to vote and either adopt the uniform text books in the schools or provide free books to all pupils in the public schools. The uniform books are to be selected by the state board of education and a commission of three others. Mr. Wilson thinks that all the books in Benton Harbor schools below the high school will be changed.

It is probable that an election will be held in St. Joseph and the free text book system adopted. In that case the present list of books will be continued in use. It is also probable, in Mr. Wilson's opinion, that such an election will be held in Benton Harbor and the free book system adopted.

ALGER AT WEST POINT.

Secretary of War Makes a Memorial Address.

WEST POINT, June 1.—In his Memorial day address here Secretary of War, General Alger said:

"In the history of all nations that which has made them great in prosperity and in strength has been achieved in war, and the brightest of its pages are illuminated by the deeds of knightly men in the field. It can truthfully be said that greater disaster can come to a nation than war, for life without honor is not worth the living. The spotless integrity of the men who have graduated at this great academy in their official and daily lives is a guide for you wherever you may be called. Remember that you are marked men—the successors of those whose names must live immortal when succeeding generations shall have passed away. You have their example for your beacon light. Go forward, then, knowing that you have the prayers and hopes of 70,000,000 people with you, and remember that over you floats the proudest flag in the world. That flag shall guard the life of every American in every land and at whatever cost. Guard well, then, your heritage and keep ever before you the thought that patriotism is the highest impulse in the world.

"It is the fond hope of the best minds of every land that the time may come, and that in the near future, when armed forces in the field shall no longer be required, when all differences between nations shall be settled by benign influences of men's best judgment and that arbitration shall be substituted for artillery, musketry and the saber. But while man is mortal perhaps the hopes that this consummation, so devoutly wished, may become the rule of the world may not be realized, and it is therefore incumbent upon every prudent people at all times to be prepared for any emergency, so that if war should come they would be in readiness."

QUESTION HIS POWER

Attorney Howell Insists That His Clients Are Not Guilty of Contempt of Court.

HAVE VIOLATED NO INJUNCTION

Says Judge Coolidge Has No Authority to Enjoin Public Corporations—Case Undecided.

W. Worth Bean and Henry Mason had their hearing in the circuit court this morning in the contempt proceedings ordered against them by Judge Coolidge for the alleged violation of the terms of an injunction granted by the court to the minority stockholders of the St. Joseph and Benton Harbor street railway company, pending a decision in the proceedings involving the application for a receiver for the above company. The injunction restrained Messrs. Bean and Mason from disposing of any of the property of the street railway company, and the stockholders who asked for the receiver, claim that in extending the line of the street railway in St. Joseph the liability of the company has been increased in violation of the injunction which was expected to restrain Bean and Mason from molesting the property until the receivership case was decided.

Lawyer Howell, representing the defendants, argued that his clients did not understand that they were violating any order of the court. He said that they understood the injunction to mean that they could not destroy the books of the company or sell the property and run away with the proceeds. He declared the court had not the power to grant an injunction which had the range conceived by the complainants' counsel to belong to the injunction in question; that the court had not the power to enjoin a public corporation from the enjoyment of its franchise.

Victor M. Gore, appearing for the complaining stockholders, insisted that the defendants should have appeared in court and asked to have the order granting the injunction modified before proceeding with an extension of at least two miles to the line at a cost of $7,000 per mile. He was inclined to believe that the defendants expected to be stopped by the court in their work in which case they could enjoy their lighting contract without executing their part of the agreement with the city of St. Joseph, their contract specifically stating that in the event of litigation which prevented them from building the proposed extension the lighting contract should remain in force.

That the terms of the injunction had been violated Mr. Gore held there was no doubt. He was not particular as to having the violators punished, but he insisted on knowing whether the court's order had any validity; whether an injunction had been granted and if so whether the court in so doing overreached its jurisdiction.

Judge Coolidge added that the court wasn't being treated right; that the contempt proceedings should have been instituted before the work on the extension in progress had advanced so far. The court will probably decide the case some time today. The question left with him to determine is whether he had the power to grant the injunction in question. In case he decides he had he will probably pass upon the question of whether such injunction has been violated.

Hinds Case Postponed.

The trial of Theodore Hinds, of Coloma, charged with criminally assaulting his 11-year-old daughter, was set for this morning, but in order to allow of an examination of his victim by Dr. John Bell the case was deferred and will probably not be heard before Thursday.

Livingston-Bradford Slander Case.

The Livingston-Bradford slander case was reached this afternoon. At 3 o'clock the jury was impaneled and James O'Hara, the plaintiff's counsel, began an outline of the prosecution to the jury.

TWENTY-ONE GO ON AN OUTING.

Five Are Brought Home Dead and Frightfully Mangled and Fifteen Wounded, Several of Them Terribly—Coachman Gets in Front of a Moving Train and a Tragedy Results—One of the Victims Ground to Pieces—Horrible Details.

New York, June 1.—Five young people were killed and a number of others injured in an accident which occurred yesterday afternoon at Valley stream, Long Island. A trolley with a party of twenty-one excursionists from the Greene Avenue Baptist church, Brooklyn, which started out for a day's outing through Long Island, was struck by a train on the Long Island railroad at the Merrick boulevard crossing, and these were instantly killed: George F. Ashley, Jr., William Gilchrist, Jr., Winslow Lewis, Lester W. Roberts, and Miss Dora Butsch—all of Brooklyn.

List of the Fifteen Injured.
The injured were: Emma Brue, skull fractured; Clara Stuart, skull fractured; Mrs. Annie Andrews, both legs broken; Lawrence Barnes, scalp wound; Walter Wellbrock, both thighs fractured; John Lewis, bruises; Edward McCormick, driver of the coach, badly injured; Earl Barnes, slightly injured; Miss Pashley, back broken; Tillie Horn, severe shock; Edna Bulger, severe shock; Richard Bates, scalp wound; Bessie Gilson, scalp wound; Miss Debbets, leg broken and head injured; Miss Ray Stillman, badly injured.

One Body Ground to Pieces.
Some of the dead were frightfully mangled. The body of Lester W. Roberts was ground to pieces. The body of Miss Butsch was also badly mangled. Winslow Lewis had his neck broken, both legs broken, his head badly gashed, and he was severely cut about the body. The crash came almost without warning, and the occupants of the coach had no time to make any effort to escape. Before the most of them knew of the impending danger the train was upon them, the coach was upset and the engine pushing it along the rails, the dead and injured being cut and mangled beneath it.

Responsibility Is in Some Doubt.
The train that struck the trolley-ho was bound east from Mineola. It was not running fast when the accident happened, and accounts differ as to whether the whistle was blown. It is also a matter of dispute whether the bell was being rung. It is claimed by some that it was, and that the merry party on the coach was making so much noise that the driver could not hear the bell. The double team of the trolley-ho had crossed the track and had the front wheels of the coach upon the rails when the pilot to the engine was seen by the driver. He gave the horses a cut with the whip, but it was too late, and a moment later the crash came.

Screams of Agony Followed.
The heavy engine, driven forward by the momentum, raised the coach and its load of passengers from the ground and hurled it forward. As the engine came into sight the women of the party uttered screams which were ended by the crash, and then followed screams of agony. When the engine struck the coach the occupants were in all positions, as they had started to jump to their feet upon realizing their danger. Some had gained their feet, while others had made an effort to reach the side steps. Others, too frightened to move, had clutched the seats or the side rail and waited for the crash.

THAT CHEYENNE INDIAN SCARE.

Like a Great Many Others of Its Kind, Much Cry and Little Weal.

Helena, Mont., June 1.—Reports of the killing of several men by the Cheyenne Indians at Lame Deer agency are not verified. It is not believed that any one was killed except a sheep herder named Hoover, whose murder some time ago caused the excitement. Settlers and cowboys determined to avenge his death and give the Cheyennes an object lesson to deter them from similar acts in the future. They sent all the women and children to places of safety, armed themselves and congregated near the agency and demanded the surrender of the Indians accused of murdering Hoover. The Indians armed themselves and made threatening demonstrations against the whites, but no battle has been fought nor massacres begun so far as is known.

Six companies of United States troops are at the agency. The Indians declare that they do not want to fight with the soldiers, but are anxious to have a brush with the white settlers and cowboys. There is a conflict of authority between the Indian agent, Captain Stouch, and the sheriff of Custer county. The sheriff's deputies were ordered off the reservation by the agent. They returned to Miles City and got warrants for the arrest of the agent for interfering with the officers and started back to arrest him.

Lame Deer is sixty miles from a telegraph office, and the result of the expedition is not known. The trouble is due to the charges of the settlers that the Indians kill and steal their cattle, and counter-charges of the Indians that the settlers continually intrude on the reservation. Governor Smith wired President McKinley protesting against the action of Captain Stouch and asking that he be directed not to interfere with civil officers. Stouch says he can and will arrest the murderers as soon as the excitement dies out.

Pingree Asks a Legal Opinion.

Lansing, Mich., June 1.—Governor Pingree has requested an opinion from Dean Hutchins, of the law department of Michigan university, as to the constitutionality of the Merriman bill to increase taxes upon railroad earnings. The governor must sign or reject the bill by June 5, and he is undecided what to do about it. Its chief alleged defect is that it is in conflict with the interstate commerce law.

Young Farmer Hanged Himself.

Chicago, June 1.—Ambrose Hunter, a young farmer living near Miles Center, Minn., was found hanging from a tree.

A man who was about the age of thirty, frequently picking a live frog off a cloud in mid-air, excited a merriment of comment along the water front, and had the story come to port with almost any other man but Captain Taylor it might have been doubted. Taylor's reputation for veracity is well established in Portland, so the strange story was taken without a grain of salt and with only a few drinks of whisky. An unusual tale of the sea always brings to mind another, and the frog story of the Iroquois was no exception.

"There's strange things happen on board ship, sometimes," said Al Betts, the well known river pilot, "and scrapping frogs off the clouds with a topmast is not the strangest. I remember an occurrence on board the old clipper Plumduff, which was so remarkable that I am frequently accused of handling the truth in a careless manner when I relate it.

"The Plumduff was en route from Calcutta for the Columbia in ballast, and I was first mate under Captain Timbertoes. Among other live stock aboard was a maltese cat. The cat behaved very well for the first week or two, but when we got over on the equator she made the night hideous with her incessant yowling. Old Timbertoes had the goat and did not sleep well anyway, and this infliction nearly made him crazy, so one night he came out, and, finding the cat in a good, convenient position, kicked her over into the sounding sea.

"The only witness to the deed was a lascar sailor at the wheel, and when he told the rest of the crew we almost had a mutiny on our hands, as they prophesied all sorts of bad luck would happen to the ship. Nothing came of it, however, and as we were in good ballast trim we came flying along in rattling shape, and about 90 days after leaving the Ganges our mudhook went down in Astoria harbor. In due season the custom house boat came out, and when the officers clambered aboard Denny Curran, the boatman, slacked away on his lanyard and his boat came around under the stern. A moment later we heard a yell, and Denny was coming up the ladder hand over hand as though the devil was after him, and in his boat, making a united chorus of 'meows,' was our old maltese cat and five half grown kittens.

"When Denny recovered his breath, he stated that, as his boat swung around under the stern, the animals immediately sprang off the top of the rudder, and the unusual sight nearly frightened him to death. We then went back and made an examination of the rudder and found that with her claws the abandoned cat had scratched a cavity out of the top of the rudder, and while the lascar sailors had been mourning her death she was engaged in rearing a family. The rudder, being high out of the water, of course prevented her getting wet very often, and a number of fishbones still reposing in the cavity indicated the diet which had kept her alive. She was taken ashore, and I think Scott Johnson, the Astoria stevedore, has some of her descendants yet, and to this day they will eat nothing but sea fish."—Portland Oregonian.

JOB IN BIG FAVOR.

Many Candidates for Deputy Collector.

The intimation that his age may deprive Ex-Mayor Antisdale of the position of deputy collector of customs at this port has brought joy to many who are hungering and thirsting after office.

It is not certain, however, but that Mr. Antisdale may get the job. Although the law says the limit for age is 55 the matter seems to lie in the discretion of the collector, Mr. Farr, of Grand Haven. As Mr. Antisdale was the original and unanimous choice of the republicans doubtless Mr. Farr will look with favor upon the fact that once Captain Rounds was collector here after he had passed the 55 year limit.

The candidates now in the field are Clarence T. Warner, George S. Bassett, P. W. Hall, Ira A. Smith, A. T. Patterson.

Mr. Smith is a reporter on the Palladium and Memorial day he made a trip to Grand Haven to convince Mr. Farr that he was the proper man for the job. Mr. Patterson is the gold democrat who now holds the place and he wants a re-appointment. Mr. Hall is a member of the firm of Hall & Nichols, the partner of Mr. Nichols, a former deputy collector. Mr. Warner and Mr. Bassett are members of the real estate and insurance firm of Rounds & Warner.

IN ST. JOSEPH.

Memorial Day Was Enthusiastically Observed.

The Memorial day exercises in St. Joseph were characterized by an unusual demonstration of enthusiasm. The procession was three blocks in length and its most fascinating feature was the little boys and girls—65 in all—who carried flowers. The Pingree Rifles also attracted considerable attention.

The procession included a platoon of police, Frazell's band, Sherman Camp, S. of V., Pingree Rifles, G. A. R., Ladies' Aid Society, flower girls and boys, K. O. T. M., M. W. A., firemen and city council. The line formed on Broad street at 2 o'clock and marched to the cemetery over Main, Ship, State and Napier avenue. The exercises at the cemetery opened with prayer by Chaplain Doone of the G. A. R., followed by the reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address by A. O. French. Then a patriotic air was sung by the children in chorus, after which the flowers were distributed over the graves of the sleeping heroes.

Bugler W. P. Ward gave three blasts of the trumpet, the firing squad responded with three volleys and the line of people re-formed and marched to the Academy of Music over Napier, State, Park, Main, Market, Front, Ship and State.

At the Academy a splendid address was delivered by Rev. Valentine.

J. M. Allmendinger Writes on a Momentous Question.

EDITOR NEWS:

More water! More water! seems to be the cry. It is God's free gift, who dares deny.

It is the prayer of the saints, and the cry of the kickers. Why are we denied that which costs you nothing? Who is responsible for the terrible calamity? Who dares dictate the quantity of water there may be squirited on the green, green grass, which beautifies and makes our homes dear to us. Think of the comforts you and I will be deprived of on these hot sultry summer nights, when in the past by placing the lawn sprinkler near our bed room window, hammock or some other comfortable place while we stole a few moments of blissful slumber. The breeze created by the spouting water, fanned our feverish brow. In fancy dreams we were carried to the council chamber, there to remain in mute silence while that august body, the people's servants, deliberately rob their masters of the only comfort and pleasure they have. Oh, it is terrible to have our rights cut in two by our servants. Never in the past history of the world have the people's servants dared to usurp and abridge the liberties of the people in such a manner. In the past every member of the board of public works, the aldermen and mayor, were considered the very essence of honor and integrity, but now, now think of it! Oh, the gall! The first day of next April every mother's son of them will hold out his hand and take $50 of the people's money. For what? Standing around our alleys and streets, walking over bridges, sitting in the city hall from three to five hours, passing resolutions and ordinances, cutting our equirring line in two. We might be induced to overlook all of this if the wages paid were not so exorbitant. The necessary number of meetings do not exceed one hundred and fifty, and this number might be cut down by at least two-thirds, making nearly thirty-four cents per sitting. Oh, we are paying too much for what we get!

Yours truly, not a saint,
J. M. ALLMENDINGER.

FIVE MILES GRADED.

But the Work is Altogether Too Slow.

June 1 has come and the disciples who worshipped at the shrine of the Benton Harbor tunnel road are again disappointed. This was the date fixed for the completion of the tunnel and the running of trains as far east as Sister Lakes. The approach to the east end of the tunnel has been dug and five miles of double track graded. That constitutes the work done up to date.

But the work is progressing slowly and there is no room to be discouraged about the final completion of the work. It is going more slowly than was promised for reasons which will later be brought out.

But the fact remains that the work is going forward even though with not that rapidity that could be desired.

PINGREE'S PARTNER.

A Legally Dead Man Appears at Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., June 1.—Charles H. Smith has returned to this country. On May 14, 1890, Mr. Smith, then a prominent business man of Detroit, mysteriously disappeared. His estate was probated June 19, 1890, and he was declared legally dead. Six months ago his closest friend, James Vernon, heard from him, and yesterday Mr. Vernon returned from New York where he had met him. Financial reverses drove Mr. Smith away and he says he will never come back to Detroit. Mr. Smith was formerly a member of the firm of Pingree & Smith. He left Detroit one night on a sailing vessel. He has visited South America and China, and until today his family was kept in ignorance of his whereabouts.

PREACHER HORSEWHIPPED.

Man Claims Reflections Were Cast on His Character.

METAMORA, Mich., June 1.—The Rev. Dr. W. H. Flint was horsewhipped on Main street yesterday by Arthur Brownell, who alleges that Dr. Flint made statements reflecting upon his character, resulting in divorce proceedings. Mrs. Brownell died before the matter came to trial. On her deathbed, it is said, Mrs. Brownell accused Dr. Flint of making these statements. Brownell attempted to have Flint contradict them, but the latter denied circulating them and refused to retract. Dr. Flint graduated from the Detroit Medical college this spring, and since then has been practicing medicine here, as well as serving as the pastor of the Congregational church. He is 5 feet 10 in height and Brownell is 6 feet 4. Both men are highly respected. Dr. Flint preached the funeral sermon of Mrs. Brownell.

YOU ARE WELCOME.
 This evening Mayor Bell will turn the keys of the city over to the Michigan Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Rev. E. A. Hoffman will speak welcome for the churches, and Mrs. D. Hunt will welcome the delegates in behalf of the local W. C. T. U.
 Nearly every society in state convention knows exactly what to do with the keys of a city when they are delivered but the good sisters will have no use for them. The keys of a city ordinarily mean license and privilege to have a "good time," but in the present case they will mean hospitality, they will mean an earnest Godspeed in a noble work, they will mean welcome. The delegates will not only receive words of welcome here, but they will be in an atmosphere which inspires a feeling of welcome and of home. They will find themselves in the only shore town on lake Michigan where the liquor laws are faithfully obeyed, and they will feel not as missionaries among a benighted people but as workers in a great cause among co-workers where the fruit of temperance work and effort has blossomed and yielded at least a part of the harvest for which they have labored and prayed.
 Not alone in words, not alone in hospitality, but in sympathy as well will the delegates to the state W. C. T. U. find themselves welcome in Benton Harbor.

AFTER signing a contract with a teacher should the board of education "resign" from the contract there would be an awful row. But if a teacher "resigns" after signing for a year that is all right. It is pretty good philosophy that it is a poor rule which works but one way.

ANDREW Rapp, the young Pottawatomie Indian, who tried to smash one of Colonel Bean's street cars with his nose, has a good case for damage. The government is responsible, for when it paid the Indian claim it made it possible for the red men to get drunk.

IGNORANCE of the law is no excuse for its violation in the common criminal and yet Attorney Howell, supposedly one of the best lawyers in this part of the state, tried to excuse himself and his clients on the ground of ignorance.

THE NEWS prints today one of the best free trade speeches recently delivered. It will take much of such sort of theory to overcome the results of the Wilson bill, and the Dingley bill as it is likely to be butchered.

Wabash Minister and Pretty Girl.
 WABASH, Ind., June 1.—The Rev. W. W. Riley, pastor of the Christian church at North Manchester, has resigned under peculiar circumstances. A few months ago he fell in love with the organist of the church, a very pretty young woman, and after a short courtship proposed marriage, and was accepted. He had been paying attention to the soprano of the choir, who is also pretty, and in spite of his betrothal to the former, continued his visits to the latter. This reached the ears of the organist, and at a church meeting Friday night she arose and asked the Rev. Mr. Riley publicly whether he was also engaged to her rival. The minister gave an evasive reply, but finally admitted that he was. Later Mr. Riley resigned and will leave North Manchester. It is understood that Riley was at the same time engaged to a young lady at Kelso, where he occasionally preached.

The Toastmaster's Nervousness.

Years and years ago, when the Press club, of more or less blessed memory, was in existence, a British newspaper man—only they call it a journalist on the other side—was at the club one evening. He had been in Washington for some time and was leaving next day. Mr. Karl Decker made a speech to him.

"Mr. Soandso," he said, "you have spent some time with us, and you have made many friends. We have become attached to you. You are going away tomorrow and we may never see you again, but in order that you may always have something by which to remember us, on behalf of the Press club I present you this ring."

And then he struck the call bell on the reading table near him. The Englishman looked just a trifle bewildered for a bit, then he reached out his hand, thanked the club and pocketed the bell. And—bless his simple English heart—next morning he told another newspaper man how kind the Press club had been to him and what a lovely presentation speech Mr. Decker had made.

"Mr. Decker must have been awfully nervous, you know," he said, "though he didn't show it, for he said, 'I present you this ring,' and, don't you know, it wasn't a ring at all; it was a bell."—Washington Post.

Outdoor Air.

Few persons stop to think of the great difference between indoor and outdoor air. In every dwelling a portion of the air has already entered the lungs and is in the nature of excrement. The outdoor air alone is tolerably pure, but perfectly so only at high altitudes and away from cities.

We talk about climate cure, about going to Florida or Nice for health, but we venture to assert that any invalid may secure a greater improvement with regard to the air he breathes by proper ventilation of his dwelling room and by living out of doors most of the time than he can by going to any new climate and neglecting these conditions. Many a poor invalid's salvation might be found in his own garden, while he may go to the ends of the earth in search of health and die in the closed room to which he has retreated in the fear of outdoor air.—Philadelphia Ledger.

...the best speeches made in the ... while the Dingley bill was being ... made by John C. Bell of ... With facts which are indis- ... and logic which is unanswer- ... he exposed many of the fallacies of ... His exposure of the absurd ... that protection helps the work- ... is especially good. Here is a ... of it:

"But our friends upon the other side ... that they levy a tariff for the bene- ... of the wageworkers. I say to you ... any tariff bill, I care not from ... it comes, that does not contain a ... provision for prohibiting the free in- ... of immigration from foreign coun- ... is oblivious of the rights of labor ... is opposed to the interest of all ... wageworkers. [Applause.]

"Protection is always asked in the ... of others. Now, observe how it ... asked in behalf of the poor laboring ...—just enough to cover the differ- ... between the European scale of ... and our own. What hypocrisy! ... ever heard of the laboring man ... getting rich manufacturing? The sta- ... tisticians clearly figured from the cen- ... of 1880 that about 6 per cent on ... our dutiable list would cover the differ- ... between the European wage sched- ... and ours, or that about 18 per cent ... valorem covered the entire labor cost ... of our list of 1880. While the manu- ... facturer then asked for the poor laborer ... his 6 per cent he got for himself at the ... hands of congress six times 6 per cent.

"Is there any reason why a high tariff ... affects wages injuriously? Yes; by en- ... abling employers to build up a vicious ... trust system for the manufacturer and ... against the laborer. The high tariff ... makes the manufacturer complete mas- ... ter of the wageworker.

"In the review of R. G. Dnn & Co., ... in their weekly review of trade, dated ... Feb. 12, it is stated:

"No other event of the week ap- ... proaches in importance the disruption ... of the steel rail pool. In two days," says ... the report, "after it a greater tonnage of ... rails was probably purchased than the ... entire production of the last year, re- ... ported at 800,000 tons. And instead of ... $16 in December and $25 in January, ... $17 is now the price at which works ... east and west are seeking orders. And ... further," says the report, "the Carnegie ... company has been selling at $17, Chi- ... cago delivery. These sales will employ ... many thousand hands, with an impor- ... tant decrease in the cost of track laying ... on renewal of railroads."

"Now, my friends, let me ask you, ... was it the rising or lowering price that ... employed these thousands of men? Our ... friend Mr. Hopkins of Illinois tells of ... the benefits of a higher duty on iron ... and steel. Did the steel rail pool need ... more tariff?

"What is the difference in giving the ... manufacturer a double profit through a ... high tariff or through a pool? Do they ... ever share the profits of the pool with ... labor? No. Will they ever share the ... profits of a tariff? Never.

"It takes no political economist to ... answer these questions. If the United ... States manufacturers can reap twice the ... profit under a high tariff by limiting ... themselves to the home market and ... reaping half time, why should they ... run full time and invade foreign mar- ...kets? They never will. They will sit ... down comfortably and sell their limited ... supply of goods for increased profits, ... making them more than whole, while ... the laborer tramps the country in search ... of work just as he now does under the ... trust system.

"It is unfortunate that the humdrum ... of the tariff has been sounded in the ... ears of the people until many of them ... really believe that foreign trade is un- ... important, if not a curse. Why did the ... breaking of the steel rail pool put so ... many men to work? It was because the ... consequent lowered price for iron and ... steel brought most liberal orders from ... abroad as well as at home. Suppose ... the tariff had been prohibitive and ... we would have been confined to the ... home market. Would the manufacturers ... have made so many goods? No, but they ... would have doubled their profits on ... what they did make. The people could ... not have bought so many because of the ... increased price. Who would have suf- ... fered? First, the workmen, because they ... would have had fewer goods to make; ... secondly, the consumer, because he ... could not have bought so many at a ... higher price. Who would have been ben- ... efited? The manufacturer, because he ... might have made and handled less ... goods, made a double profit, and really ... been gained, as he would have had few- ... er to handle for the same profit.

"This bill will increase the manu- ... facturer's profits on the individual arti- ... cles, but will lessen the power of the ... people to buy or use his wares.

"It is the poverty of the buyer, not ... the producer, that must be relieved be- ... fore things will thrive.

"The manufacturer has every facility ... to produce, but no facility to sell.

"It is the consumption that must ... first be stimulated, and that will stim- ... ulate production.

"There are but a few crumbs in this ... bill to aid the oppressed farmer of the ... interior or the laborer, but thousands ... of things to further oppress him. Higher ... taxes, higher salt, higher lumber, high- ... er clothing, higher manufactured prod- ... ucts and absolutely nothing to raise the ... wages of labor—a high tariff on labor's ... necessities, limiting the demand for his ... goods by narrowing the market, but ... leaving the door wide open for the ...

...the background of their lives, a severe ... and self denying standard of living ... which it was impossible for them to ig- ... nore. Sin itself was invested with a ... fearful dignity, and surely no dream of ... human perfection ever so exalted the ... nature of man as did that stern theology ... which taught him that the stars and ... planets were only lights to light him at ... night; that for his benefit or for his ... punishment God might at any moment ... interrupt the course of the universe, and ... finally that he had within himself the ... momentous power of choosing eternal ... punishment or eternal happiness. Under ... that religious belief there grew up ... men and women—some of them are still ... living—who constituted little reservoirs ... of moral strength upon which the com- ... munity or even the nation itself could ... draw in times of necessity.

What influence will take the place of ... that old belief? What moral force will ... curb the passions, chasten the lives, ... stimulate the energy of the rude people ... who are born in these remote towns? ... Whence shall they derive the discipline ... and the self control without which ... their primeval strength will be as use- ... less as the undammed waters of a moun- ... tain torrent? I confess that these ... thoughts fill me with apprehension for ... the future, and sometimes I am even led ... to think that New England character ... reached its culmination in the heroic ... sacrifices of the civil war and entered ... thereafter upon a long and gradual ... course of sure decay. All this, however, ... may be—and I trust that it is—simply ... the pessimism of an old man.—Philip ... Morgan in Atlantic.

Toxines and Antitoxines.

The opinion that distinct toxines re- ... quire distinct antitoxines would appear ... to require some modification. Dr. Cal- ... mette has shown that anti snake venom ... serum protects against scorpion poi- ... son. Roux and Calmette have shown ... that rabbits vaccinated against rabies ... acquire remarkable powers of resisting ... the action of cobra venom. Again, ani- ... mals vaccinated against tetanus and ... anthrax, respectively, not only elaborate ... antitetanic and antianthrax serum, but ... such serums have also been found to be ... in some cases capable of counteracting ... the effects of cobra venom. Calmette ... has also shown that antidiphtheria, ... antitetanus, antianthrax and antichol- ... era serums possess decided "immunizing ... powers with regard to the vegetable ... toxines of abzyme. Dr. Memmo, working ... in the Hygienic institute of the Uni- ... versity of Rome, has observed that a ... distinct, although slight, curative ac- ... tion is produced by antidiphtheria se- ... rum in cases of tetanus.

Some extremely interesting investiga- ... tions by Dr. Marriotti-Bianchi, dealing ... with the action of normal serums from ... various sources on different bacterial ... toxines, also tend to confirm the above ... observations. Bianchi has also been able ... to reproduce all the phenomena claimed ... by Pfeiffer to be specific in respect to ... the behavior of cholera vibrios in an- ... ticholera serum by placing these vibrios ... in normal serum derived from dogs and ... cats respectively. It would appear that ... not only may various antitoxines modify ... one and the same toxine, but normal se- ... rums may also produce in some cases ... protection against toxines. This latter ... point has been specially dwelt upon by ... Bianchi in his memoir.—Nature.

He Got the Votes.

The late Governor Albert G. Porter ... of Indiana was a good campaigner. In ... one of his stumping tours he was to ... speak in Morgan county. A number of ... fine carriages were at the station as the ... train drew up to carry Mr. Porter and ... the persons who were with him to the ... place of speaking. Off at one side was ... an old fashioned "carryall," with rag- ... ged oilcloth curtains, wheels incrust- ... ed with mud, presenting a sadly dilapi- ... dated appearance. Mr. Porter looked ... beyond the carriages to this conveyance, ... and his clear blue eye lighted with ... pleasure as he recognized the driver, ... who was a well known momeboked ... Democrat. "Why, George," said Mr. ... Porter, extending his hand, "I'm glad ... you're here. Gentlemen," turning to ... the persons at the carriages, who were ... awaiting him, "never mind me. I'm ... going to ride over with my old friend ... George." His "old friend George" ... had four grown sons, all Democrats, ... but every vote in the family was given ... to the handsome young man who could ... mix with the plain people, and who had ... ridden with "dad" to the place of ... meeting.—New York Tribune.

The old man had given his son a very ... fair education and had taken him into ... his shop. The young fellow was over- ... nice about a great many things, but the ... father made no comment. One day an ... order came in from a customer.

"I wish to goodness," exclaimed the ... son, "that Gibson would learn to spell!"

"What's the matter with it?" in- ... quired the father cheerfully.

"Why, he spells coffee with a 'k'."

"No, does he? I never noticed it."

"Of course you never did," said the ... son pettishly. "You never notice any- ... thing like that."

"Perhaps not, my son," replied the ... old man gently, "but there is one thing ... I do notice, which you will learn by and ... by, and that is that Gibson pays cash."

DECORATION DAY AT WASHINGTON

Beautiful Arlington the scene of the principal observance—Programme of the exercises—Dolliver the orator—Tribute to "The Unknown Dead"—The President Present—Celebration of the Day at New York City.

Washington, June 1.—Memorial Day was generally observed in Washington. The senate had adjourned over for the day, and the house held only a 15-minute session. All the departments and the business houses were closed, and the day was given up to patriotic observance and tributes to the heroic dead. The bronze statues of the nation's heroes on land and sea in the government reservations and parks were shrouded in the flags under which they fought. At 10 o'clock there was an impressive parade of the G. A. R. and other patriotic organizations, which at 11 o'clock broke up, the several posts holding memorial exercises in the various cemeteries. The most imposing ceremonies, of course, were held at the National cemetery at Arlington, on the Virginia side of the Potomac, opposite Washington, which was before the war the magnificent estate of Robert E. Lee, the Confederate chieftain.

It Is a Historic Estate.

This beautiful property had been sold a little over a century ago to John Alexander for six hogheads of tobacco, and was inherited by Lee from John Parke Custis, the son of Martha Washington by her first husband, who served as an aide on Washington's staff. It was purchased by the government from the Lee heirs in 1883 for $150,000, after having been held as a national cemetery since the close of the war. Here bivouac almost 35,000 of the nation's dead, 6,000 of whose identity will never be known, being buried in a single grave. Among the most famous of the heroes buried beneath the spreading oaks and elms are General Sheridan, the great cavalry leader; Admiral Porter, the hero of Mobile; Brigadier General Harney and General Ricketts.

Exercises at Arlington.

The exercises at Arlington were made particularly memorable by the presence of President McKinley. They began at 12 o'clock with a national salute of twenty-one guns from the light battery, Fourth artillery, U. S. A. The beautiful ceremony of strewing flowers on the graves followed. Led by the Marine band the G. A. R. and other organizations which had formed in front of the old Lee mansion marched to the tomb of the unknown dead, where the band played a dirge while the massive monument was being decorated. After this the procession separated. With gentle hands and loving hearts the graves of the vast army beneath the trees received their tributes of flowers. The humblest of the country's defenders was not neglected.

Programme at the Amphitheatre.

The organizations and guests afterward gathered at the amphitheatre which was impressively decorated, where the exercises took place. The programme at the amphitheatre opened with buglers sounding "assembly." After a funeral march by the Marine band the "Burial of the Dead" was sung by the choir. Thomas S. Hopkins, department commander, called the assembly to order, and the Rev. W. H. Black invoked divine blessing. The choir sang again, and then Representative Dolliver, of Iowa, delivered the oration of the day. The oration was followed by music and a poem delivered by Dr. Thomas Calver. Hon. Webster Davis, assistant secretary of the interior, followed with an oration, and the exercises concluded with Beethoven's "Funeral March of a Dead Hero," played by the Marine band.

They Are Passing Away.

A noticeable feature of the exercises here was the great inroads the past few years had made in the ranks of the veterans. In several instances the bands outnumbered the posts they were escorting.

CELEBRATION AT NEW YORK.

President McKinley Sends a Wreath for the Tomb of Gen. Grant.

New York, June 1.—A rainy forenoon interfered greatly with the observance of Memorial Day in New York and its vicinity. There were, however, committees of veterans of the Union army at all the cemeteries in and about New York to decorate the graves of those of their comrades who have found burial there. The tomb of General Grant in Riverside Park was well remembered, for there, besides the tributes from local posts of the Grand Army of Republic there was received a box on the outside of which was the inscription: "Flowers for the tomb of General Grant, Riverside Park, New York, from the conservatory, executive mansion, Washington, D. C." The box contained a large number of choice flowers.

The parade was reviewed at the Worth monument in Madison square by Mayor Strong, city officials and prominent citizens. The National Guard, which had in previous years added much to the impressiveness of the parade, did not participate this year. The various arms of the national service were, however, well represented, infantry, cavalry and artillery detachments from the various forts near the city, and sailors and marines from the navy yard being in line.

The weather was intensely hot at General Grant's tomb in the afternoon, but 3,000 persons assembled there to take part in the exercises of U. S. Grant post No. 327, G. A. R., of Brooklyn. Flowers were deposited in the crypt on the sarcophagus. To the left was a magnificent floral contribution from the Chinese minister, and to the right an immense wreath presented by the Confederate camp of this city. Mrs. Newman, the wife of Bishop Newman, descended into the crypt, accompanied by H. A. Perry, of the Northwestern university of Chicago, and deposited a bunch of roses.

When the marching veterans appeared a national salute of twenty-one guns was fired by the United States batteries in line, which was anchored in the park.

Chicago, June 1.—Perfect weather, cool atmosphere and a cloudless sky blessed the greatest Memorial Day parade that has ever passed through the streets of Cincinnati. It was in six divisions, and included the Grand Army posts, the Union Veterans' union, the Sons of Veterans and the boys of the public schools. It took an hour in passing. On both sides of Fourth street the girls of the schools were ranged to witness the parade. They were all provided with small flags. The passing of the gray haired and tottering veterans bearing with stern pride their cherished battle flags, was to these children a lesson in patriotism not soon to be forgotten. Following them came the battalions of boys with boys' drum bands and flags without number. In no other country could there be found a pageant so full of significance.

Mrs. McKinley Sends Flowers.

Canton, O., June 1.—A member of the Canton Woman's Relief Corps yesterday morning received a box of roses, lilies and other flowers from Mrs. McKinley. They were sent from Washington for the purpose of being used to strew the graves of soldiers at this place, and came without any previous word or hint from the donor. The gracious act of Mrs. McKinley was appreciated by President and Mrs. McKinley to be used as designed. A relative of Mrs. McKinley received choice flowers from placed on the mounds of their children.

The Day in Mississippi.

Vicksburg, Miss., June 1.—An immense assembly joined in the ceremonies of Decoration Day at the National cemetery. In accordance with a custom of years a delegation of Confederate veterans took offerings of flowers to the cemetery in the afternoon and scattered them over the graves.

LET'S TALK ABOUT THE WEATHER.

It Is Not a Common Thing to Have Frost on Decoration Day.

Milwaukee, June 1.—Heavy frosts occurred yesterday morning over the entire state of Wisconsin, and considerable damage was probably done to vegetation and fruit, although the chilled and backward condition of almost everything doubtless saved much of it from being ruined. Old timers recall, in connection with the present continued cold weather, the fact that in 1850 frost visited nearly every section of Wisconsin during every month of the year. On the morning of July 4, they say, ice formed on water which had stood out during the night.

Marshalltown, Ia., June 1.—There was quite a severe frost here yesterday morning. Considerable ice was formed. Reports from the country indicate material damage to corn, early potatoes, tender vegetables and fruits.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., June 1.—Towns in this county and its immediate vicinity report a heavy frost Sunday night. At some points even corn and potatoes were badly damaged, while more tender crops were destroyed.

KNOW HOW TO RUN THE CLUB.

But Is Scornfully Asked "What Gear Do You Ride?" by Anson.

Chicago, June 1.—"What gear do you ride?" is the latest slang expression. It was coined by Captain Anson, of the Chicago base ball club. Just before Sunday's game was called a man who confessed that he was a base ball crank stepped up to Captain Anson and told him how to win the championship.

"What you ought to do," he said, "is to put Callahan in center field and let Lange hold down third base. Everett is a good pitcher, and he ought to be given a show in the box. Then, if I were you, I'd change Ryan to short stop and put McCormick behind the bat. Now, take my advice and I'll bet you a new hat you'll win the pennant." When the man got through talking Captain Anson scrutinized him closely and finally ejaculated in a tone of disgust: "Say, what gear do you ride?" The expression found favor with those who heard it and before the end of the game it had become popular.

Chinamen Before the Aztecs.

Hermasillo, Mexico, June 1.—Miguel Rojas, a member of the Mexican Society of Geography and Statistics, while making archaeological researches along the Yaqui river, southwest of here, discovered a huge rock upon which Chinese characters were clearly inscribed. This discovery has much interest in Mexican archaeological circles, and lends color to the old Mexican legend that the early inhabitants of Mexico came from China.

International Chess Match.

Washington, June 1.—Picked chess-players of the house of representatives and the British house of commons, the one party in this city and the other in London, began yesterday an international chess match by cable. Before play began Speaker Reed and Speaker Gully, of the respective legislative bodies, exchanged telegrams of amity and good will. The first winner was Plunkett, an English player.

Scripture Found in Egypt.

London, June 1.—A great find of ancient papyrus in Egypt has been made by Grenfell and Hunt, who are working in behalf of the Egyptian exploration fund. Among the papyrus is a leaf from a third century papyrus book containing a collection of the sayings of Christ. Some of these sayings are not in the gospels, and others exhibit divergencies from the text of the gospels.

He Was Warning the Dynamite.

Cripple Creek, Col., June 1.—William Carr, aged 28, and Frank Curtis, aged 31, miners in the Norman tunnel, five miles south of this city, were instantly killed by a premature explosion of dynamite. Carr was warning four sticks of the explosive over a fire. The bodies were hardly recognizable.

The Chicago Chronicle

IS FIRST OF ALL

A GREAT NEWSPAPER.

ESSENTIALLY it is an advocate of democracy, with no leaning toward populism or socialism. The triumph of the republican party in the recent presidential election, as a result of the disruption of the democrats, devolves upon the latter the duty of reconciliation and reorganization on the lines of their own, and not some other party's, faith. To promote genuine democracy, to increase the popular participation in the government, to resist the monopolistic tendencies of republicanism will be the political mission of THE CHRONICLE in the future as it has been in the past. As a newspaper THE CHRONICLE will continue to be comprehensive and enterprising, sparing neither labor nor expense to make its reports of all noteworthy events of superior importance, and covering exhaustively the entirely field of news, discovery, invention, industry and progress. For one cent a day every family within five hundred miles of Chicago may have on the day of its publication a copy of a great daily newspaper, costing thousands of dollars to produce—a miracle of cheapness and value combined.

Policeman Charles A. Sauerbier has resigned his position upon the advice of friends who anticipated his suspension because of charges of a very unsavory character made against him. His place is being filled by William Baird, who will succeed Mr. Sauerbier in case of his permanent suspension by the city council tonight. Mr. Sauerbier had a night beat and it was supposed that he was attending strictly to his business until Saturday night when it is alleged he was intoxicated.

Washington, June 1.—What is supposed to have been an earthquake shock was felt here at 1:59 p. m. yesterday. It lasted about fifty seconds and caused chandeliers to sway and floors to tremble perceptibly. It was noticed at the Capitol, in the telephone exchange and several of the high buildings. The weather and naval observatory have recording instruments. A watchman at the observatory said that the shock lasted nearly a minute. The self-recording instrument at the weather bureau showed that the disturbance began at 1:58½ and lasted five minutes. The movement was from south to north. The shocks were felt in Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, North Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee and Indiana.

At Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Richmond. Baltimore, June 1.—A slight earthquake was felt here shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It was not noticeable except in the high buildings, but in these distinct vibrations were felt, lasting about five seconds.

Shook Things in West Virginia.

Clarksburg, W. Va., June 1.—A severe shock of earthquake was felt in this city at 2:02 p. m. yesterday lasting twelve seconds, and followed by a second shock, milder and of shorter duration. The most substantial buildings in the city rocked perceptibly, and some of the occupants were unable to keep their feet. This was the first earthquake reported here since the memorable Charleston quake in August, 1888.

Wheeling, W. Va., June 1.—At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon a distinct earthquake shock was felt all over Wheeling and in the surrounding towns. No damage was done so far as could be learned. The quake lasted about thirty seconds and was violent enough to shake brick buildings slightly.

STRIKES THE BUCKEYE STATE

And Travels South as Far as Georgia—Indiana Gets a Shaking.

Cincinnati, June 1.—Special dispatches to The Times-Star report an earthquake felt distinctly all over Ohio. Shortly after 1 o'clock the earthquake was felt here and in the suburbs. The printers ran out of The Times-Star office. Occupants of other buildings were alarmed, and at Coney Island, Chester Park, the Zoological gardens, and elsewhere there was consternation among the holiday crowds. At the lagoon on the Kentucky side there was a panic among several thousand people on the grounds. The waters in the lagoon were so rough that the life saving crew went to the relief of those out in the electric pleasure boats.

Zanesville, O., June 1.—The earthquake shock was felt here at about 1 p. m. yesterday. The Courier building of four stories exhibited decided vibrations. To such an extent was this noticed and experienced that employees on the fourth and third floors deserted, hurrying below greatly frightened.

Winston, N. C., June 1.—Three severe shocks of earthquake were felt here at 2 p. m. yesterday. Wild excitement prevailed, but no damage was done.

Knoxville, Tenn., June 1.—Two distinct shocks of earthquake were felt in Knoxville yesterday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock. The shocks were general throughout the city, although many people did not feel them. Reports vary as to the length of the shocks, some claiming that they were at least a half minute in length. Several large buildings were shaken and two chimneys fell. Reports from all over eastern Tennessee indicate that in places the shock was felt stronger than in Knoxville.

Louisville, June 1.—A distinct earthquake shock was felt in this city shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. No damage was done. The shock lasted about five seconds. The vibrations passed from south to north, and were felt at Lexington and other points in this state.

You're Right..

Then make a bee line for our store. Perhaps you are a man

—a new man—one of the kind that experiences a feeling of relief because the new woman wants to do ALL the voting, and you have done it so long you are sick of the whole business and wish she would. Perhaps you have been thinking of buying a pair of hand-sewed shoes to celebrate your "emancipation." You have had this kind, but the hand that sewed them was a machine. Suppose you come and see ours. We have the kind your grandfather wore—style different, of course—size too, perhaps. You'll remember the old gent never had but one pair, but 'twas enough. He bought them of our grandfather. The brand still runs in the family. They will outwear anything made of leather. You are hard on your shoes—all men are. But that ought not to make so much difference to the shoe, if it's the right kind. THESE ARE THAT WAY.

STATE CONVENTION BEGUN.

Committees Appointed and the Society Now in Shape to Do Business.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the twenty-third annual meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union began at the First M. E. church. The church was gaily decked with mottoes of the society and on the platform was the rich banner of the State of Michigan which was painted in glittering letters, "Michigan my Michigan, for God and Home and Native Land." The sides of the church were decorated with banners reading like the following: "In the name of Our God will we set up our banners," "Not for Sect but for Humanity."

There were fifty strangers present at the opening session and Mrs. E. M. Bass, chairman of the committee on entertainment, was kept busy all the forenoon assigning them to places of entertainment. This afternoon the trains brought larger numbers but there was plenty of accommodation provided for all.

The women are just as business like as the men and in the hall of the church is a stand where W. C. T. U. souvenir spoons are sold, where the biography of Miss Willard's mother is exchanged for coin and opportunities are afforded those who honestly desire to part with bits of change.

In opposition to Harry Huntington the Misses Earl and French have opened a postoffice and bureau of information in one of the exit entrances of the church and in another is a baggage room in charge of Misses Rice and Morrill.

The election of officers will occur Thursday forenoon and it is probable that the present officers will be elected. Asked if any Benton Harbor woman would get a state office Mrs. E. L. Calkins of Kalamazoo said: "No one will get an office who is an office seeker. We always sit right down on that sort of people. When anyone aspires for glory we always think that they do not appreciate the responsibilities of office and would make poor officials. If Benton Harbor has some one we really need we will elect them."

This evening at 7:30 o'clock will be the welcome meeting, the program for which appeared in THE NEWS last evening. Following will be a half hour by the children in which the following local children will take part: Tina Stretch, Charlie Wiley, Myrtle

Walker, Isabelle Earle, Carrie O'Donnell, Willie Ludlow, Jessie Elliott and Esther O'Donnell.

THE FIRST SESSION.

Only Three Gentlemen Were Present.

The devotional exercises at the opening of the first session of the W. C. T. U. were conducted by Mrs. E. L. Calkins, of Kalamazoo. Nearly 400 ladies and three gentlemen were in attendance. Mrs. Alice M. Phillips, of Grand Rapids, a worker among soldiers and sailors was called to the platform and she made an excellent address. The convention then for a little time resolved itself into a prayer meeting.

The pews of the church are divided off into congressional districts and the church has something of the appearance of a political convention ground, with its banners of the different districts.

Secretary Arford of the Y. M. C. A., assisted by William Russell, Barrett O'Hara and Ward Stratton met the different trains and escorted the ladies to the church.

The state president, Mrs. Benjamin organized the convention by the appointment of the following committees: Finance—Mesdames Vorhees, Ann Arbor; Knowles, Benton Harbor; Telegram committee—Mrs. Julia R. Parish, Bay City.

Committee on resolutions—Mesdames Jennie Lockwood, M. E. Strong, Francis, S. H. Dickenson, Emily E. Brown, Emma Green, C. C. Fully, Emma Bowers, Ella E. Burgett, J. H. Bailly, M. M. Coone, Jennie Spanger.

FREE TEXT BOOKS.

The Uniform School Book Law May Mean That.

Prof. E. A. Wilson is greatly interested in the law for uniform text books passed by the legislature. The law leaves it optional with any city or district to vote and either adopt the uniform text books in the schools or provide free books to all pupils in the public schools. The uniform books are to be selected by the state board of education and a commission of three others. Mr. Wilson thinks that all the books in Benton Harbor schools below the high school will be changed.

It is probable that an election will be held in St. Joseph and the free text book system adopted. In that case the present list of books will be continued in use. It is also probable, in Mr. Wilson's opinion, that such an election will be held in Benton Harbor and the free book system adopted.

ALGER AT WEST POINT.

Secretary of War Makes a Memorial Address.

WEST POINT, June 1.—In his Memorial day address here Secretary of War, General Alger said:

"In the history of all nations that which has made them great in prosperity and in strength has been achieved in war, and the brightest of its pages are illuminated by the deeds of knightly men in the field. It can truthfully be said that greater disaster can come to a nation than war, for life without honor is not worth the living. The spotless integrity of the men who have graduated at this great academy in their official and daily lives is a guide for you wherever you may be called. Remember that you are marked men—the successors of those whose names must live immortal when succeeding generations shall have passed away. You have their example for your beacon light. Go forward, then, knowing that you have the prayers and hopes of 70,000,000 people with you, and remember that over you floats the proudest flag in the world. That flag shall guard the life of every American in every land and at whatever cost. Guard well, then, your heritage and keep ever before you the thought that patriotism is the highest impulse in the world."

"It is the fond hope of the best minds of every land that the time may come, and that in the near future, when armed forces in the field shall no longer be required, when all differences between nations shall be settled by benign influences of men's best judgment and that arbitration shall be substituted for artillery, musketry and the saber. But while map is mortal perhaps the hopes that this consummation, so devoutly wished, may become the rule of the world may not be realized, and it is therefore incumbent upon every prudent people at all times to be prepared for any emergency, so that if war should come they would be in readiness."

QUESTION HIS POWER

Says Judge Coolidge Has No Authority to Enjoin Public Corporations—Case Undecided.

W. Worth Bean and Henry Mason had their hearing in the circuit court this morning in the contempt proceedings ordered against them by Judge Coolidge for the alleged violation of the terms of an injunction granted by the court to the minority stockholders of the St. Joseph and Benton Harbor street railway company, pending a decision in the proceedings involving the application for a receiver for the above company. The injunction restrained Messrs. Bean and Mason from disposing of any of the property of the street railway company, and the stockholders who asked for the receiver, claim that in extending the line of the street railway in St. Joseph the liability of the company has been increased in violation of the injunction which was expected to restrain Bean and Mason from molesting the property until the receivership case was decided.

Lawyer Howell, representing the defendants, argued that his clients did not understand that they were violating any order of the court. He said that they understood the injunction to mean that they could not destroy the books of the company or sell the property and run away with the proceeds. He declared the court had not the power to grant an injunction which had the range conceived by the complainants' counsel to belong to the injunction in question; that the court had not the power to enjoin a public corporation from the enjoyment of its franchise.

Victor M. Gore, appearing for the complaining stockholders, insisted that the defendants should have appeared in court and asked to have the order granting the injunction modified before proceeding with an extension of at least two miles to the line at a cost of $7,000 per mile. He was inclined to believe that the defendants expected to be stopped by the court in their work in which case they could enjoy their lighting contract without executing their part of the agreement with the city of St. Joseph, their contract specifically stating that in the event of litigation which prevented them from building the proposed extension the lighting contract should remain in force.

That the terms of the injunction had been violated Mr. Gore held there was no doubt. He was not particular as to having the violators punished, but he insisted on knowing whether the court's order had any validity; whether an injunction had been granted and if so whether the court in so doing overreached its jurisdiction.

Judge Coolidge added that the court wasn't being treated right; that the contempt proceedings should have been instituted before the work on the extension in progress had advanced so far. The court will probably decide the case some time today. The question left with him to determine is whether he had the power to grant the injunction in question. In case he decides he had he will probably pass upon the question of whether such injunction has been violated.

HINDS CASE POSTPONED.

The trial of Theodore Hinds, of Coloma, charged with criminally assaulting his 11-year-old daughter, was set for this morning, but in order to allow of an examination of his victim by Dr. John Bell the case was deferred and will probably not be heard before Thursday.

LIVINGSTON-BRADFORD SLANDER CASE.

The Livingston-Bradford slander case was reached this afternoon. At 3 o'clock the jury was impaneled and James O'Hara, the plaintiff's counsel, began an outline of the prosecution to the jury.

Considerable has been said in the papers of the recent improvements in the City Steam Laundry and we would cordially invite the public to call and see for themselves.

The large steam ironer, known as a mangle, is in daily operation and does very fine work especially on table linen. The new collar and cuff ironer is also in operation, and does elegant work. We are now prepared to give very low rates on family laundry. If you never have visited our laundry we would be pleased to show you through what is without doubt one of the best equipped in Michigan outside of the largest cities.

THE EVENING NEWS.

SECOND YEAR—NO. 515.

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., TUESDAY, JUNE 1, 1897.

ONE CENT.

JOB IN BIG FAVOR.

Many Candidates for Deputy Collector.

The intimation that his age may deprive Ex-Mayor Antisdale of the position of deputy collector of customs at this port has brought joy to many who are hungering and thirsting after office.

It is not certain, however, but that Mr. Antisdale may get the job. Although the law says the limit for age is 55 the matter seems to lie in the discretion of the collector, Mr. Farr, of Grand Haven. As Mr. Antisdale was the original and unanimous choice of the republicans doubtless Mr. Farr will look with favor upon the fact that once Captain Rounds was collector here after he had passed the 55 year limit.

The candidates now in the field are Clarence T. Warner, George S. Bassett, P. W. Hall, Ira A. Smith, A. T. Patterson.

Mr. Smith is a reporter on the Palladium and Memorial day he made a trip to Grand Haven to convince Mr. Farr that he was the proper man for the job. Mr. Patterson is the gold democrat who now holds the place and he wants a re-appointment. Mr. Hall is a member of the firm of Hall & Nichols, the partner of Mr. Nichols, a former deputy collector. Mr. Warner and Mr. Bassett are members of the real estate and insurance firm of Rounds & Warner.

IN ST. JOSEPH.

Memorial Day Was Enthusiastically Observed.

The Memorial day exercises in St. Joseph were characterized by an unusual demonstration of enthusiasm. The procession was three blocks in length and its most fascinating feature was the little boys and girls—65 in all—who carried flowers. The Pingree Rifles also attracted considerable attention.

The procession included a platoon of police, Frazell's band, Sherman Camp, S. of V., Pingree Rifles, G. A. R., Ladies' Aid Society, flower girls and boys, K. O. T. M., M. W. A., firemen and city council. The line formed on Broad street at 2 o'clock and marched to the cemetery over Main, Ship, State and Napier avenue. The exercises at the cemetery opened with prayer by Chaplain Doone of the G. A. R., followed by the reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address by A. O. French. Then a patriotic air was sung by the children in chorus, after which the flowers were distributed over the graves of the sleeping heroes.

Bugler W. P. Ward gave three blasts of the trumpet, the firing squad responded with three volleys and the line of people re-formed and marched to the Academy of Music over Napier, State, Park, Main, Market, Front, Ship and State.

At the Academy a splendid address was delivered by Rev. Valentine.

J. M. Allmendinger Writes on a Momentous Question.

EDITOR NEWS:

More water! More water! seems to be the cry. It is God's free gift, who dares deny.

It is the prayer of the saints, and the cry of the kickers. Why are we denied that which costs you nothing? Who is responsible for the terrible calamity? Who dares dictate the quantity of water there may be squirited on the green, green grass, which beautifies and makes our homes dear to us. Think of the comforts you and I will be deprived of on these hot sultry summer nights, when in the past by placing the lawn sprinkler near our bed room window, hammock or some other comfortable place while we stole a few moments of blissful slumber. The breeze created by the spouting water, fanned our feverish brow. In fancy dreams we were carried to the council chamber, there remain in mute silence while that august body, the people's servants, deliberately rob their masters of the only comfort and pleasure they have. Oh, it is terrible to have our rights cut in two by our servants. Never in the past history of the world have the people's servants dared to usurp and abridge the liberties of the people in such a manner. In the past every member of the board of public works, the aldermen and mayor, were considered the very essence of honor and integrity, but now, now think of it! Oh, the gall! The first day of next April every mother's son of them will hold out his hand and take $50 of the people's money. For what? Standing around our alleys and streets, walking over bridges, sitting in the city hall from three to five hours, passing resolutions and ordinances, cutting our squirting line in two. We might be induced to overlook all of this if the wages paid were not so exorbitant. The necessary number of meetings do not exceed one hundred and fifty, and this number might be cut down by at least two-thirds, making nearly thirty-four cents per sitting. Oh, we are paying too much for what we get!

Yours truly, not a saint,
J. M. ALLMENDINGER.

FIVE MILES GRADED.

But the Work is Altogether Too Slow.

June 1 has come and the disciples who worshipped at the shrine of the Benton Harbor tunnel road are again disappointed. This was the date fixed for the completion of the tunnel and the running of trains as far east as Sister Lakes. The approach to the east end of the tunnel has been dug and five miles of double track graded. That constitutes the work done up to date.

But the work is progressing slowly and there is no room to be discouraged about the final completion of the work. It is going more slowly than was promised for reasons which will later be brought out.

But the fact remains that the work is going forward even though with not that rapidity that could be desired.

A Legally Dead Man Appears at Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., June 1.—Charles H. Smith has returned to this country. On May 14, 1890, Mr. Smith, then a prominent business man of Detroit, mysteriously disappeared. His estate was probated June 19, 1890, and he was declared legally dead. Six months ago his closest friend, James Vernon, heard from him, and yesterday Mr. Vernon returned from New York where he had met him. Financial reverses drove Mr. Smith away and he says he will never come back to Detroit. Mr. Smith was formerly a member of the firm of Pingree & Smith. He left Detroit one night on a sailing vessel. He has visited South America and China, and until today his family was kept in ignorance of his whereabouts.

PREACHER HORSEWHIPPED.

Man Claims Reflections Were Cast on His Character.

METAMORA, Mich., June 1.—The Rev. Dr. W. H. Flint was horsewhipped on Main street yesterday by Arthur Brownell, who alleges that Dr. Flint made statements reflecting upon his character, resulting in divorce proceedings. Mrs. Brownell died before the matter came to trial. On her deathbed, it is said, Mrs. Brownell accused Dr. Flint of making these statements. Brownell attempted to have Flint contradict them, but the latter denied circulating them and refused to retract.

Dr. Flint graduated from the Detroit Medical college this spring, and since then has been practicing medicine here, as well as serving as the pastor of the Congregational church. He is 5 feet 10 in height and Brownell is 6 feet 4. Both men are highly respected. Dr. Flint preached the funeral sermon of Mrs. Brownell.

YOU ARE WELCOME.

This evening Mayor Bell will turn the keys of the city over to the Michigan Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Rev. E. A. Hoffman will speak welcome for the churches, and Mrs. D. Hunt will welcome the delegates in behalf of the local W. C. T. U.

Nearly every society in state convention knows exactly what to do with the keys of a city when they are delivered but the good sisters will have no use for them. The keys of a city ordinarily mean license and privilege to have a "good time," but in the present case they will mean hospitality, they will mean an earnest Godspeed in a noble work, they will mean welcome.

The delegates will not only receive words of welcome here, but they will be in an atmosphere which inspires a feeling of welcome and of home. They will find themselves in the only shore town on lake Michigan where the liquor laws are faithfully obeyed, and they will feel not as missionaries among a benighted people but as workers in a great cause among co-workers where the fruit of temperance work and effort has blossomed and yielded at least a part of the harvest for which they have labored and prayed.

Not alone in words, not alone in hospitality, but in sympathy as well will the delegates to the state W. C. T. U. find themselves welcome in Benton Harbor.

AFTER signing a contract with a teacher should the board of education "resign" from the contract there would be an awful row. But if a teacher "resigns" after signing for a year that is all right. It is pretty good philosophy that it is a poor rule which works but one way.

ANDREW Rapp, the young Pottawatomie Indian, who tried to smash one of Colonel Bean's street cars with his nose, has a good case for damage. The government is responsible, for when it paid the Indian claim it made it possible for the red men to get drunk.

IGNORANCE of the law is no excuse for its violation in the common criminal and yet Attorney Howell, supposedly one of the best lawyers in this part of the state, tried to excuse himself and his clients on the ground of ignorance.

THE NEWS prints today one of the best free trade speeches recently delivered. It will take much of such sort of theory to overcome the results of the Wilson bill, and the Dingley bill as it is likely to be butchered.

Wabash Minister and Pretty Girl.

WABASH, Ind., June 1.—The Rev. W. W. Riley, pastor of the Christian church at North Manchester, has resigned under peculiar circumstances. A few months ago he fell in love with the organist of the church, a very pretty young woman, and after a short courtship proposed marriage, and was accepted. He had been paying attention to the soprano of the choir, who is also pretty, and in spite of his betrothal to the former, continued his visits to the latter. This reached the ears of the organist, and at a church meeting Friday night she arose and asked the Rev. Mr. Riley publicly whether he was also engaged to her rival. The minister gave an evasive reply, but finally admitted that he was. Later Mr. Riley resigned and will leave North Manchester. It is understood that Riley was at the same time engaged to a young lady at Kelso, where he occasionally preached.

The Toastmaster's Nervousness.

Years and years ago, when the Press club, of more or less blessed memory, was in existence, a British newspaper man—only they call it a journalist on the other side—was at the club one evening. He had been in Washington for some time and was leaving next day. Mr. Karl Decker made a speech to him.

"Mr. Soandso," he said, "you have spent some time with us, and you have made many friends. We have become attached to you. You are going away tomorrow and we may never see you again, but in order that you may always have something by which to remember us, on behalf of the Press club I present you this ring."

And then he struck the call bell on the reading table near him. The Englishman looked just a trifle bewildered for a bit, then he reached out his hand, thanked the club and pocketed the bell. And—bless his simple English heart—next morning he told another newspaper man how kind the Press club had been to him and what a lovely presentation speech Mr. Decker had made.

"Mr. Decker must have been awfully nervous, you know," he said, "though he didn't show it, for he said, 'I present you this ring,' and, don't ye know, it wasn't a ring at all; it was a bell."—Washington Post.

Outdoor Air.

Few persons stop to think of the great difference between indoor and outdoor air. In every dwelling a portion of the air has already entered the lungs and is in the nature of excrement. The outdoor air alone is tolerably pure, but perfectly so only at high altitudes and away from cities.

We talk about climate cure, about going to Florida or Nice for health, but we venture to assert that any invalid may secure a greater improvement with regard to the air he breathes by proper ventilation of his dwelling room and by living out of doors most of the time than he can by going to any new climate and neglecting these conditions. Many a poor invalid's salvation might be found in his own garden, while he may go to the ends of the earth in search of health and die in the closed room to which he has retreated in the fear of outdoor air.—Philadelphia Ledger.

PROTECTION CAN GIVE NOTHING TO WORKINGMEN WHILE LABOR IS ON THE FREE LIST.

The Laborer Now Competes With Lowest Responsible Bidder of the World—Low Prices Stimulate Both Consumption and Production—Example of Steel Rail Pool.

One of the best speeches made in the house while the Dingley bill was being discussed was made by John C. Bell of Colorado. With facts which are indisputable and logic which is unanswerable he exposed many of the fallacies of protection. His exposure of the absurd claim that protection helps the workingman is especially good. Here is a part of it:

"But our friends upon the other side say that they levy a tariff for the benefit of the wageworkers. I say to you that any tariff bill, I care not from whom it comes, that does not contain a provision for prohibiting the free inflow of immigration from foreign countries is oblivious of the rights of labor and is opposed to the interest of all wageworkers. [Applause.]

"Protection is always asked in the interest of others. Now, observe how it is asked in behalf of the poor laboring man—just enough to cover the difference between the European scale of wages and our own. What hypocrisy! Who ever heard of the laboring man getting rich manufacturing? The statisticians clearly figured from the census of 1880 that about 6 per cent on our dutiable list would cover the difference between the European wage schedule and ours, or that about 18 per cent ad valorem covered the entire labor cost of our list of 1880. While the manufacturer then asked for the poor laborer his 6 per cent he got for himself at the hands of congress six times 6 per cent.

"Is there any reason why a high tariff affects wages injuriously? Yes; by enabling employers to build up a vicious trust system for the manufacturer and against the laborer. The high tariff makes the manufacturer complete master of the wageworker.

"In the review of R. G. Dun & Co., in their weekly review of trade, dated Feb. 12, it is stated:

"No other event of the week approaches in importance the disruption of the steel rail pool. In two days," says the report, "after a greater tonnage of rails was probably purchased than the entire production of the last year, reported at 800,000 tons. And instead of $28 in December and $25 in January, $17 is now the price at which works east and west are seeking orders. And further," says the report, "the Carnegie company has been selling at $17, Chicago delivery. These sales will employ many thousand hands, with an important decrease in the cost of track laying on renewal of railroads."

"Now, my friends, let me ask you, was it the rising or lowering price that employed these thousands of men? Our friend Mr. Hopkins of Illinois tells of the benefits of a higher duty on iron and steel. Did the steel rail pool need more tariff?

What is the difference in giving the manufacturer a double profit through a high tariff or through a pool? Do they ever share the profits of the pool with labor? No. Will they ever share the profits of a tariff? Never.

"It takes no political economist to answer these questions. If the United States manufacturers can reap twice the profit under a high tariff by limiting themselves to the home market and running half time, why should they run full time and invade foreign markets? They never will. They will sit down comfortably and sell their limited supply of goods for increased profits, making them more than whole, while the laborer tramps the country in search of work just as he now does under the trust system.

"It is unfortunate that the humdrum of the tariff has been sounded in the ears of the people until many of them really believe that foreign trade is unimportant, if not a curse. Why did the breaking of the steel rail pool put so many men to work? It was because the consequent lowered price for iron and steel brought most liberal orders from abroad as well as at home. Suppose the tariff had been prohibitive and we would have been confined to the home market. Would the manufacturers have made so many goods? No, but they would have doubled their profits on what they did make. The people could not have bought so many because of the increased price. Who would have suffered? First, the workmen, because they would have had fewer goods to make; secondly, the consumer, because he could not have bought so many at a higher price. Who would have been benefited? The manufacturer, because he might have made and handled less goods, made a double profit, and really have gained, as he would have had fewer to handle for the same profit.

"This bill will increase the manufacturer's profits on the individual articles, but will lessen the power of the people to buy or use his wares.

"It is the poverty of the buyer, not the producer, that must be relieved before things will thrive.

"The manufacturer has every facility to produce, but no facility to sell.

"It is the consumption that must first be stimulated, and that will stimulate production.

"There are but a few crumbs in this bill to aid the oppressed farmer of the interior or the laborer, but thousands of things to further oppress him. Higher sugar, higher salt, higher lumber, higher clothing, higher manufactured products and absolutely nothing to raise the price of labor—a high tariff on labor's products, limiting the demand for his labor by narrowing the market, and leaving the ports wide open for the importation of other laborers from foreign countries to freely compete with English laborers, he will find it hard to exaggerate the part which religion has played in its development. In former days even the irreligious had, in the background of their lives, a severe and self denying standard of living which it was impossible for them to ignore. Sin itself was invested with a fearful dignity, and surely no dream of human perfection ever so exalted the nature of man as did that stern theology which taught him that the stars and planets were only lights to light him at night; that for his benefit or for his punishment God might at any moment interrupt the course of the universe, and finally that he had within himself the momentous power of choosing eternal punishment or eternal happiness. Under that religious belief there grew up men and women—some of them are still living—who constituted little reservoirs of moral strength upon which the community or even the nation itself could draw in times of necessity.

What influence will take the place of that old belief? What moral force will curb the passions, chasten the lives, stimulate the energy of the rude people who are born in these remote towns? Whence shall they derive the discipline and the self control without which their primal strength will be as useless as the undammed waters of a mountain torrent? I confess that these thoughts fill me with apprehension for the future, and sometimes I am even led to think that New England character reached its culmination in the heroic sacrifices of the civil war and entered thereafter upon a long and gradual course of sure decay. All this, however, may be—and I trust that it is—simply the pessimism of an old man.—Philip Morgan in Atlantic.

Toxines and Antitoxines.

The opinion that distinct toxines require distinct antitoxines would appear to require some modification. Dr. Calmette has shown that anti snake venom serum protects against scorpion poison. Roux and Calmette have shown that rabbits vaccinated against rabies acquire remarkable powers of resisting the action of cobra venom. Again, animals vaccinated against tetanus and anthrax, respectively, not only elaborate antitetanic and antianthrax serum, but such serums have also been found to be in some cases capable of counteracting the effects of cobra venom. Calmette has also shown that antidipteria, antitetanus, antianthrax and anticholera serums possess decided immunizing powers with regard to the vegetable toxins of abrine. Dr. Memmo, working in the Hygienic institute of the University of Rome, has observed that a distinct, although slight, curative action is produced by antidipteria serum in cases of tetanus.

Some extremely interesting investigations by Dr. Marriotti-Bianchi, dealing with the action of normal serums from various sources on different bacterial toxines, also tend to confirm the above observations. Bianchi has also been able to reproduce all the phenomena claimed by Pfeiffer to be specific in respect to the behavior of cholera vibrios in anticholera serum by placing these vibrios in normal serum derived from dogs and cats respectively. It would appear that not only many various antitoxines modify one and the same toxine, but normal serums may also produce in some cases protection against toxines. This latter point has been specially dwelt upon by Bianchi in his memoir.—Nature.

He Got the Votes.

The late Governor Albert G. Porter of Indiana was a good campaigner. In one of his stumping tours he was to speak in Morgan county. A number of fine carriages were at the station as the train drew up to carry Mr. Porter and the persons who were with him to the place of speaking. Off at one side was an old fashioned "carryall," with ragged oilcloth curtains, wheels incrustated with mud, presenting a sadly dilapidated appearance. Mr. Porter looked beyond the carriages to this conveyance, and his clear blue eye lighted with pleasure as he recognized the driver, who was a well known moshawked Democrat. "Why, George," said Mr. Porter, extending his hand, "I'm glad you're here. Gentlemen," turning to the persons at the carriages, who were awaiting him, "never mind me. I'm going to ride over with my old friend George." His "old friend George" had four grown sons, all Democrats, but every vote in the family was given to the handsome young man who could mix with the plain people, and who had ridden with "dad" to the place of meeting.—New York Tribune.

Better Than Orthography.

The old man had given his son a very fair education and had taken him into his shop. The young fellow was over-nice about a great many things, but the father made no comment. One day an order came in from a customer.

"I wish to goodness," exclaimed the son, "that Gibson would learn to spell!"

"What's the matter with it?" inquired the father cheerfully.

"Why, he spells coffee with a 'k'."

"No, does he? I never noticed it."

"Of course you never did," said the son pettishly. "You never notice anything like that."

"Perhaps not," my son," replied the old man gently, "but there is one thing I do notice, which you will learn by and by, and that is that Gibson pays cash."

To my Friends and Acquaintances: I wish to say that about two years ago I lifted on a barrel of sugar and over done myself and caused a rupture, which became very bad. I consulted several doctors, some at Kalamazoo, Niles and Sodus. All seemed to vary as to conditions, and I got little or no satisfaction and had become almost discouraged. Last fall my wife's father, P. E. O'Brien, commenced a course of treatment with Drs. B. S. & Co., and from their success with him I was persuaded by his family and my wife to call on Dr. Booth and get his opinion. I did so and he seemed to know what he was talking about, and gave me more satisfaction than all others—in fact the only doctor that I had confidence in. He told me it would require an operation to cure me. The doctors at Kalamazoo said it would require an operation and wanted $600 in all. I could not think of that. Dr. Booth told me that the full cost of treatment and operation would be only $100. He did the work and I am O. K. now thanks to the firm of Drs. B. S. & Co. I advise all in need of medical aid to call on them.

Who Sleep in the Nation's Cities of the Dead.

DECEMBER DAY AT WASHINGTON

Memorial Arlington the scene of the Principal Observance—Programme of the Exercises—Dolliver the Orator—Tribute to "The Unknown Dead"—The President Present—Celebration of the Day at New York City.

Washington, June 1.—Memorial Day was generally observed in Washington. The senate had adjourned over for the day, and the house held only a 15-minute session. All the departments and the business houses were closed, and the day was given up to patriotic observance and tributes to the heroic dead. The bronze statues of the nation's heroes on land and sea in the government reservations and parks were shrouded in the flags under which they fought. At 10 o'clock there was an impressive parade of the G. A. R. and other patriotic organizations, which at 11 o'clock broke up, the several posts holding memorial exercises in the various cemeteries. The most imposing ceremonies, of course, were held at the National cemetery at Arlington, on the Virginia side of the Potomac, opposite Washington, which was before the war the magnificent estate of Robert E. Lee, the Confederate chieftain.

It Is a Historic Estate.
This beautiful property had been sold a little over a century ago to John Alexander for six hogheads of tobacco, and was inherited by Lee from John Parke Custis, the son of Martha Washington by her first husband, who served as an aide on Washington's staff. It was purchased by the government from the Lee heirs in 1883 for $150,000, after having been held as a national cemetery since the close of the war. Here bivouac almost 35,000 of the nation's dead, 2,000 of whose identity will never be known, being buried in a single grave. Among the most famous of the heroes buried beneath the spreading oaks and elms are General Sheridan, the great cavalry leader; Admiral Porter, the hero of Mobile; Brigadier General Harney and General Ricketts.

Exercises at Arlington.
The exercises at Arlington were made particularly memorable by the presence of President McKinley. They began at 12 o'clock with a national salute of twenty-one guns from the light battery, Fourth artillery, U. S. A. The beautiful ceremony of strewing flowers on the graves followed. Led by the Marine band the G. A. R. and other organizations which had formed in front of the old Lee mansion marched to the tomb of the unknown dead, where the band played a dirge while the massive monument was being decorated. After this the procession separated. With gentle hands and loving hearts the graves of the vast army beneath the trees received their tributes of flowers. The humblest of the country's defenders was not neglected.

Programme at the Amphitheatre.
The organizations and guests afterward gathered at the amphitheatre which was impressively decorated, where the exercises took place. The programme at the amphitheatre opened with bugles sounding "assembly." After a funeral march by the Marine band the "Burial of the Dead" was sung by the choir. Thomas S. Hopkins, department commander, called the assembly to order, and the Rev. W. H. Black invoked divine blessing. The choir sang again, and then Representative Dolliver, of Iowa, delivered the oration of the day. The oration was followed by music and a poem delivered by Dr. Thomas Calver. Hon. Webster Davis, assistant secretary of the interior, followed with an oration, and the exercises concluded with Beethoven's "Funeral March of a Dead Hero," played by the Marine band.

They Are Passing Away.
A noticeable feature of the exercises here was the great inroads the past few years had made in the ranks of the veterans. In several instances the bands outnumbered the posts they were escorting.

CELEBRATION AT NEW YORK.

President McKinley Sends a Wreath for the Tomb of Gen. Grant.

New York, June 1.—A rainy forenoon interfered greatly with the observance of Memorial Day in New York and its vicinity. There were, however, committees of veterans of the Union army at all the cemeteries in and about New York to decorate the graves of those of their comrades who have found burial there. The tomb of General Grant in Riverside Park was well remembered, for there, besides the tributes from local posts of the Grand Army of the Republic there was received a box on the outside of which was the inscription: "Flowers for the tomb of General Grant, Riverside Park, New York, from the conservatory, executive mansion, Washington, D. C." The box contained a large number of choice flowers.

The parade was reviewed at the Worth monument in Madison square by Mayor Strong, city officials and prominent citizens. The National Guard, which had in previous years added much to the impressiveness of the parade, did not participate this year. The various arms of the national service were, however, well represented, infantry, cavalry and artillery detachments from the various forts near the city, and sailors and marines from the navy yard being in line.

The weather was intensely hot at General Grant's tomb in the afternoon, but 3,000 persons assembled there to take part in the exercises of U. S. Grant post No. 827, G. A. R., of Brooklyn. Flowers were deposited in the crypt on the sarcophagus. To the left was a magnificent floral contribution from the Chinese minister, and to the right an immense wreath presented by the Confederate camp of this city. Mrs. Newman, the wife of Bishop Newman, descended into the crypt, accompanied by H. A. Perry, of the Northwestern university of Chicago, and deposited a bunch of roses.

When the marching veterans appeared a national salute of twenty-one guns was fired by the United States artillery. The parade was then taken to the river. The day was a beautiful one, and the exercises were well attended.

Queen City Breaks the Record.

Cincinnati, June 1.—Perfect weather, cool atmosphere and a cloudless sky blessed the greatest Memorial Day parade that has ever passed through the streets of Cincinnati. It was in six divisions, and included the Grand Army posts, the Union Veterans' union, the Sons of Veterans and the boys of the public schools. It took an hour in passing. On both sides of Fourth street the girls of the schools were ranged to witness the parade. They were all provided with small flags. The passing of the gray haired and tottering veterans bearing with stern pride their cherished battle flags, was to these children a lesson in patriotism not soon to be forgotten. Following them came the battalions of boys with boys' drum bands and flags without number. In no other country could there be found a pageant so full of significance.

Mrs. McKinley Sends Flowers.

Canton, O., June 1.—A member of the Canton Woman's Relief Corps yesterday morning received a box of roses, lilies and other flowers from Mrs. McKinley. They were sent from Washington for the purpose of being used to strew the graves of soldiers at this place, and came without any previous word or hint from the donor. The gracious act of Mrs. McKinley was appreciated by President and Mrs. McKinley to be used as designed. A relative of Mrs. McKinley received choice flowers from placed on the mounds of their children.

The Day in Mississippi.

Vicksburg, Miss., June 1.—An immense assembly joined in the ceremonies of Decoration Day at the National cemetery. In accordance with a custom of years a delegation of Confederate veterans took offerings of flowers to the cemetery in the afternoon and scattered them over the graves.

LET'S TALK ABOUT THE WEATHER.

It Is Not a Common Thing to Have Frost on Decoration Day.

Milwaukee, June 1.—Heavy frosts occurred yesterday morning over the entire state of Wisconsin, and considerable damage was probably done to vegetation and fruit, although the chilled and backward condition of almost everything doubtless saved much of it from being ruined. Old timers recall, in connection with the present continued cold weather, the fact that in 1859 frost visited nearly every section of Wisconsin during every month of the year. On the morning of July 4, they say, ice formed on water which had stood out during the night.

Marshalltown, Ia., June 1.—There was quite a severe frost here yesterday morning. Considerable ice was formed. Reports from the country indicate material damage to corn, early potatoes, tender vegetables and fruits.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., June 1.—Towns in this county and its immediate vicinity report a heavy frost Sunday night. At some points even corn and potatoes were badly damaged, while more tender crops were destroyed.

KNOW HOW TO RUN THE CLUB.

But Is Scornfully Asked "What Gear Do You Ride?" by Anson.

Chicago, June 1.—"What gear do you ride?" is the latest slang expression. It was coined by Captain Anson, of the Chicago base ball club. Just before Sunday's game was called a man who confessed that he was a base ball crank stepped up to Captain Anson and told him how to win the championship. "What you ought to do," he said, "is to put Callahan in center field and let Lange hold down third base. Everitt is a good pitcher, and he ought to be given a show in the box. Then, if I were you, I'd change Ryan to short stop and put McCormick behind the bat. Now, take my advice and I'll bet you a new hat you'll win the pennant." When the man got through talking Captain Anson scrutinized him closely and finally ejaculated in a tone of disgust: "Say, what gear do you ride?" The expression found favor with those who heard it and before the end of the game it had become popular.

Chinamen Before the Aztecs.

Hermasillo, Mexico, June 1.—Miguel Rojas, a member of the Mexican Society of Geography and Statistics, while making archaeological researches along the Yaqui river, southwest of here, discovered a huge rock upon which Chinese characters were clearly inscribed. This discovery has much interest in Mexican archaeological circles, and lends color to the old Mexican legend that the early inhabitants of Mexico came from China.

International Chess Match.

Washington, June 1.—Picked chess-players of the house of representatives and the British house of commons, the one party in this city and the other in London, began yesterday an international chess match by cable. Before play began Speaker Reed and Speaker Gully, of the respective legislative bodies, exchanged telegrams of amity and good will. The first winner was Plunkett, an English player.

Scripture Found in Egypt.

London, June 1.—A great find of ancient papyrus in Egypt has been made by Grenfell and Hunt, who are working in behalf of the Egyptian exploration fund. Among the papyrus is a leaf from a third century papyrus book containing a collection of the sayings of Christ. Some of these sayings are not in the gospels, and others exhibit divergences from the text of the gospels.

He Was Warning the Dynamite.

Cripple Creek, Col., June 1.—William Carr, aged 28, and Frank Curtis, aged 31, miners in the Norman tunnel, five miles south of this city, were instantly killed by a premature explosion of dynamite. Carr was warning four sticks of the explosive over a fire. The bodies were hardly recognizable.

Agrees to a New Armistice.

Constantinople, June 1.—An trade has just been issued and communicated to the representatives of the powers, by which the sultan agrees to an armistice of a fortnight beginning May 30. Fresh instructions consequently will be sent to Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander in Thessaly.

Chicago Road Race.

Chicago, June 1.—W. D. Smedley, Calumet club, won the Chicago road race, at Bluffton, Morgan Park, was second, and W. J. Rogers, Calumet, third. Time of winner, 1:17:14. It was the seventh annual road race of the Association.

The triumph of the republican party in the recent presidential election, as a result of the disruption of the democrats, devolves upon the latter the duty of reconciliation and reorganization on the lines of their own, and not some other party's, faith. Policeman Charles A. Sauerbier has resigned his position upon the advice of friends who anticipated his suspension because of charges of a very unsavory character made against him. His place is being filled by William Bard, who will succeed Mr. Sauerbier in case of his permanent suspension by the city council tonight. Earthquake Gives a Number of States the Shivers.

FELT AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

And from There South to South Carolina and Georgia—Indiana and Ohio Also Feel a Quiver—People at Work in High Buildings Desert Their Posts in Terror—No Damage of Any Consequence Reported from Any Point So Far.

Washington, June 1.—What is supposed to have been an earthquake shock was felt here at 1:59 p. m. yesterday. It lasted about fifty seconds and caused chandeliers to sway and floors to tremble perceptibly. It was noticed at the Capitol, in the telephone exchange and several of the high buildings. The weather and naval observatory have recording instruments. A watchman at the observatory said that the shock lasted nearly a minute. The self-recording instrument at the weather bureau showed that the disturbance began at 1:58 1/4 and lasted five minutes. The movement was from south to north. The shocks were felt in Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, North Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee and Indiana.

At Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Richmond. Baltimore, June 1.—A slight earthquake was felt here shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It was not noticeable except in the high buildings, but in these distinct vibrations were felt, lasting about five seconds.

Pittsburgh, June 1.—A slight earthquake shock was felt here at 1:51 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It was not or was quite perceptible in high buildings and lasted nearly a minute.

Richmond, Va., June 1.—An earthquake shock which lasted a few seconds was experienced here about 1:30 p. m. yesterday. It shook buildings and rattled windows, but no damage was done. The people in many buildings were badly frightened.

Shook Things in West Virginia.

Clarksburg, W. Va., June 1.—A severe shock of earthquake was felt in this city at 2:02 p. m. yesterday lasting twelve seconds, and followed by a second shock, milder and of shorter duration. The most substantial buildings in the city rocked perceptibly, and some of the occupants were unable to keep their feet. This was the first earthquake reported here since the memorable Charleston quake in August, 1886.

Wheeling, W. Va., June 1.—At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon a distinct earthquake shock was felt all over Wheeling and in the surrounding towns. No damage was done so far as could be learned. The quake lasted about thirty seconds and was violent enough to shake brick buildings slightly.

Huntington, W. Va., June 1.—A distinct shock of earthquake lasting ten seconds was felt here at 2:08 yesterday afternoon. It was felt, generally throughout southern West Virginia from west to east.

STRIKES THE BUCKEYE STATE

And Travels South as Far as Georgia—Indiana Gets a Shaking.

Cincinnati, June 1.—Special dispatches to The Times-Star report an earthquake felt distinctly all over Ohio. Shortly after 1 o'clock the earthquake was felt here and in the suburbs. The printers ran out of The Times-Star office. Occupants of other buildings were alarmed, and at Coney Island, Chester Park, the Zoological gardens, and elsewhere there was consternation among the holiday crowds. At the lagoon on the Kentucky side there was a panic among several thousand people on the grounds. The waters in the lagoon were so rough that the life saving crew went to the relief of those out in the electric pleasure boats.

Zanesville, O., June 1.—The earthquake shock was felt here at about 1 p. m. yesterday. The Courier building of four stories exhibited decided vibrations. To such an extent was this noticed and experienced that employees on the fourth and third floors deserted, hurrying below greatly frightened.

Winston, N. C., June 1.—Three severe shocks of earthquake were felt here at 2 p. m. yesterday. Wild excitement prevailed, but no damage was done.

Asheville, N. C., June 1.—At 1:59 p. m. yesterday an earthquake shock very perceptibly shook Asheville. Hundreds of occupants of buildings ran into the streets. No damage was done.

Atlanta, Ga., June 1.—A shock of earthquake was clearly felt here at 1 p. m. yesterday. The trembling was not severe and there was no excitement.

Spartanburg, S. C., June 1.—A distinct earthquake, shaking buildings and rattling windows, was felt here at 1:55 p. m. yesterday. It was as severe as that of August, 1886.

Knoxville, Tenn., June 1.—Two distinct shocks of earthquake were felt in Knoxville yesterday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock. The shocks were general throughout the city, although many people did not feel them. Reports vary as to the length of the shocks, some claiming that they were at least a half minute in length. Several large buildings were shaken and two chimneys fell. Reports from all over eastern Tennessee indicate that in places the shock was felt stronger than in Knoxville.

Louisville, June 1.—A distinct earthquake shock was felt in this city shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. No damage was done. The shock lasted about five seconds. The vibrations passed from south to north, and were felt at Lexington and other points in this state.

Indianapolis, June 1.—At 1 p. m. yesterday a slight earthquake shock was felt here. The shock was most noticeable in the fire tower and high buildings.

Lost His Life in Vain.

Lincoln Center, Kas., June 1.—George Repshire and his son Herbert, aged 48 and 15 respectively, were drowned at Shady Bend, on the Saline river, this county, Sunday evening. The boy while bathing was taken with cramps and called for help, when the father went to his assistance and both were drowned.

No Private One-Cent Postal Cards.

Washington, June 1.—From the large number of inquiries now being received by the postoffice department there seems to be a general belief that congress has authorized the issue and the use of private postal cards, available at one cent a piece. The postoffice department, however, has no such plan.

You're Right..

Then make a bee line for our store. Perhaps you are a man

—a new man—one of the kind that experiences a feeling of relief because the new woman wants to do ALL the voting, and you have done it so long you are sick of the whole business and wish she would. Perhaps you have been thinking of buying a pair of hand-sewed shoes to celebrate your "emancipation." You have had this kind, but the hand that sewed them was a machine. Suppose you come and see ours. We have the kind your grandfather wore—style different, of course—size too, perhaps. You'll remember the old gent never had but one pair, but 'twas enough. He bought them of our grandfather. The brand still runs in the family. They will outwear anything made of leather. You are hard on your shoes—all men are. But that ought not to make so much difference to the shoe, if it's the right kind. THESE ARE THAT WAY.
